The New UK Immigration System

With the UK's official departure from the European Union on the 31st December 2021, a new immigration system has been introduced. It is called Points-Based System and it is inspired by the Australian system that award points to each requirement towards the visa's acquisition.

The country aims to bring the brightest and the best professionals from around the world who can contribute to the UK's economy in fields as business, science, economics, arts and technology, among others.

More Job Opportunities

We may think that this system will make it more difficult for people to come to the UK, instead, it may open new opportunities for many people around the world.

Even though it is still very tough, several things have been changed and made it easier to meet the requirements.
